To Whom It May Concern:

Ref. Poly Aromatic Hydrocarbons

With reference to your request around Polyaromatic Hydrocarbons, I can confirm that Stanley Black & Decker does not intentionally use these substances in the manufacture of its products.

Our policy is to continually check our product range and as such we have requested new data from our supplier and we expect to have this shortly. We will then forward the results directly to you.

If you need any further information please drop me a line

Yours sincerely
